

NEW STATE ROAD PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

Division and assistant division engineers of the State Highway Department will meet in Frankfort today to discuss plans for work of the department. Notice of the meeting was given simultaneously with announcement of the outlines of the six divisions into which the State Highway will be divided, effective January 1.

At present there are nine divisions in the State. Three of these will be consolidated with other divisions and employees will be transferred, so that no changes in personnel will be necessary, it was said.

L. L. Pearsall, of Danville, will be transferred to Frankfort as chief location engineer in charge of all surveys, and John E. Johnson, of Henderson, will become chief draftsman in the Frankfort office, which will look after administrative details. The Frankfort office also will complete and check all plans for highway work, although planning and "penel work" will be done in division offices.

Bourbon county has been placed in the Third District, composed of Kenton, Boone, Campbell, Gallatin, Grant, Pendleton, Bracken, Robertson, Harrison, Shelby, Nicholas, Bourbon, Scott, Franklin, Owen, Carroll, Trimble, Oldham and Jefferson counties.

—One of the most brilliant entertainments of the many given by the Bourbon County Women's Club was that given recently by the Department of Music at the Club rooms. "The Orchestra and Its Instruments," a paper prepared by Mrs. Milton J. Stern, and read by Mrs. J. T. Vansant made a fitting prelude to the madrigal movement from Beethoven's C Minor Symphony played by Mrs. Stanley Dickson, Mrs. Clay Sutherland, and Misses Boatright and Rachel McClintock. "The Oratorio" was illustrated by three members, Mrs. John W. Jones, Mrs. Tollie Young and Mrs. Robert G. Jones, all of North Middletown. Mrs. Carlton Ball, of Millersburg, whose death some time ago caused sincere sorrow among the Club members was feelingly remembered in a touching manner in a paper, "The Memoriam," by Mrs. Owen L. Davis and Miss Ruth McClintock. All members were present and enjoyed the recess until after the holidays.
